This will be a collaborative project, and I’d like you to consider using digital media as at least part of your product.

Review all your writing and research this semester and create a list of new information you have learned about your major and writing in your major as a student and in the field after graduation. If there are gaps, research for more information.

Compile your information and look for patterns that will allow you to talk about similarities and differences between the majors and writing in the majors of your group members.

Choose a format and create a workplan, which you will turn in to me.

Consider your audience to be undergraduates who are considering majoring in your field. Collaborate on the piece and present it at the final class meeting. You’ll need to document sources for the final presentation in some way: you can use any documentation style you want.

In your portfolio, include this writing about the project, titled Assignment 4 Reflection:

- A summary of the whole piece
- Your contribution to the work
- A comparison of how writing in your major is similar to and different from that of the majors of your group members
- What you learned from the project
